

HHC 2011 Update #2

Richard J. Nelson

1. HP Calculators I have no idea whether HP will spin off their calculator operations, sell them or keep them. I can make my guesses based on my 38 years of experience, but they are just that - guesses. What I said in update #1 was just my opinions and should not in any way be taken to reflect any inside information or the thoughts of anyone employed by HP.
2. Hotel Rooms One person had to cancel because of work, but he will hold his room in case someone wants to take it. Email me ASAP if you are interested. As far as I know everyone should have a room, but the attendee list just keeps growing. email me at: rjnelsoncf@cox.net.
3. HHC List sign up. It is important <http://lists.brouhaha.com/mailman/listinfo/hhc>
4. Schedule We will have a very very full schedule and the topics just keep getting more and more interesting. This will be a very busy Conference and the Committee will take special measures to insure that we stay on schedule. HHC 2011 speakers please see the next topic. Just to put it into perspective a conference of four days would not be enough.
5. Speakers The deadline for your material, no matter how brief , is Monday 8 AM pacific daylight time on the 19 when I take it to the printer. If the schedule is crowded – we have a priority list of critical topics – and if you did not provide material and another speaker did, there is a remote possibility of not having time.
- 6., Book Event Same reminder as in #1. Some users still believe that the printed word is an important media for sharing information. We will have extra tables for attendees to bring their books and other HP calculator documentation to give away, sell, or trade at HHC 2011. Since I am driving I will bring a few hundred pounds of Conference proceedings, historical HP literature, etc.
- 7., Door Prize List The last door prize list update will be posted in three days.

I hope to see you at HHC 2011.
